Mountjoy Jail is a place of extremes. It is a place where hope and despair coexist, where violence and compassion collide. This book takes you on a journey into the heart of this complex and fascinating world, and reveals the shocking true story of life on the inside.

A Glimpse Inside Mountjoy Jail

Mountjoy Jail is a maze of high walls, barbed wire, and steel gates. The prison is divided into four main wings, each of which houses a different type of prisoner. The A Wing is home to the most dangerous criminals, including murderers and rapists. The B Wing houses prisoners who are on remand, awaiting trial. The C Wing is home to prisoners who are serving sentences for less serious crimes, such as theft and assault. The D Wing is a female-only wing.

The cells in Mountjoy Jail are small and cramped. Each cell is equipped with a bed, a toilet, and a sink. There is no privacy in the cells, and prisoners are constantly under surveillance by prison staff.

The daily routine in Mountjoy Jail is strictly regimented. Prisoners are woken up at 7am and given breakfast. They then have a few hours to exercise or socialize before being locked in their cells for the day. Lunch is served at 12pm, and dinner is served at 5pm. Prisoners are locked in their cells at 9pm.

Life in Mountjoy Jail is tough. The prisoners are constantly under stress and the risk of violence is ever-present. But despite the challenges, there is also a sense of community among the prisoners. They support each other through the good times and the bad, and they form bonds that will last a lifetime.
